11. Quarantine

1) Quarantine Information

Bringing dogs to the Republic of Korea

All travelers bringing dogs to the Republic of Korea must adhere to the following procedure.

1. Import of dogs younger than 90 days or originating from rabies-free countries

- Although dogs younger than 90 days or originating from rabies-free countries do not require prior vaccination against rabies, it is mandatory that they have microchips implanted in them. Their owners must submit to the animal quarantine officer at the port of entry a health certificate issued by the veterinary authority of the exporting country which states the animal's microchip number.
- A dog whose accompanying documentation has been verified and whose health has been confirmed through a clinical examination at the port of entry may be released on the day of arrival. However, an animal without a microchip or whose microchip number is not the same as that on the certificate may be quarantined for an extended period of time to have a microchip implanted, at the owner's expense.

2. Import of cats and dogs aged 90 days or older

- A microchip implant and a rabies-neutralizing antibody test are mandatory for dogs aged 90 days or older originating from countries that are not rabies-free. The rabies-neutralizing antibody test must be administered by an internationally approved laboratory or by the competent authority of the exporting country within 24 months prior to boarding.
- ※ For a list of internationally approved laboratories for rabies antibody tests, visit:
http://ec.europa.eu/food/animal/liveanimals/pets/approval_en.htm
- ※ If you don't bring health certificate with your or dogs, your dogs have to return to exporting country, all at the owner's cost as well.
- ※ The average extended period for quarantine is 10 days, and this period can be extended more depending on the case.
- Microchip must be ISO-compliant and either implantation type or necklace type.
- Microchips implanted in dogs must be ISO-compliant (ISO11784 and 11785 standards). For any other chips, importers must bring their own microchip scanners.
- ※ Additionally required documentation
 - Dogs imported from Malaysia require an additional certificate confirming that the animal has been kept in an area free of Hendra and Nipah viruses, or that the animal produced a negative result in a Hendra and Nipah virus test. Without such a certificate, the quarantine period will be extended by 21 days.

For more information on bringing cats and dogs to Korea, visit the Animal and Plant Quarantine Agency(QIA) website at: <http://www.qia.go.kr>.

2) Special Procedure for a short-term visitors(10 days or less)

In case of short-term visitors (10 days or less) entering Korea from overseas for the purpose of participating in dog shows, submit the original quarantine certificate of the other country at the time of entry quarantine and request a copy. If the copied document has been verified with the original and received a quarantine pass stamp, this document can be substitute as a vaccination and health certificate of departure.

The timing of issuing a quarantine certificate (e.g., 10 days before departure, within 40 hours, etc.) may vary depending on the quarantine regulations and requirements of the destination country, and is generally required to be issued a certain period of time before the departure date. In the case of overseas travelers, they must check the expiration date of the quarantine certificate of the country they are departing from and proceed with departure quarantine.

Accordingly, we would like to inform you that you should carefully check the quarantine regulations of the country you are traveling to and, if possible, visit the quarantine office at the
